Individuals who discover together are one

"Individuals" is not just another vague word inscribed on the sands of frustrated minds nor one more theme to rubber stamp into another yearbook. It is a description of us, the two thousand and six hundred students of Floyd E. Kellam High School.

Our academic atmosphere may resemble conformity, but we are not smudged carbon copies of someone else. We are thinkers who probe for that different idea, who strive to learn as well as to meet academic standards.

We are not machines who grind out facts and say nothing. We are individuals who challenge ideas, old and new, our own suppositions and the principles formulated by others. But never do we challenge just for the sake of challenging; never do we rebel for rebellion's sake. We are people who explore, think and create on constructive levels, shunning what is majority right for what is morally right.

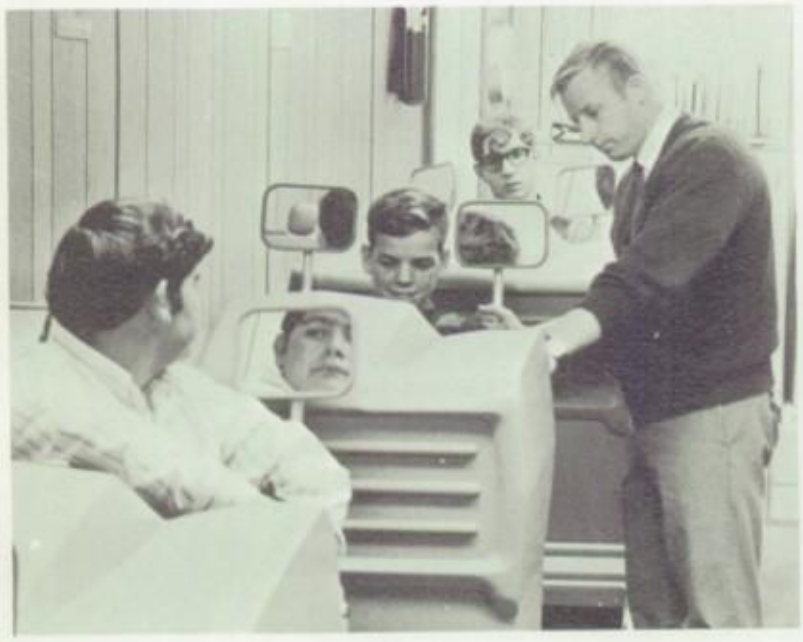
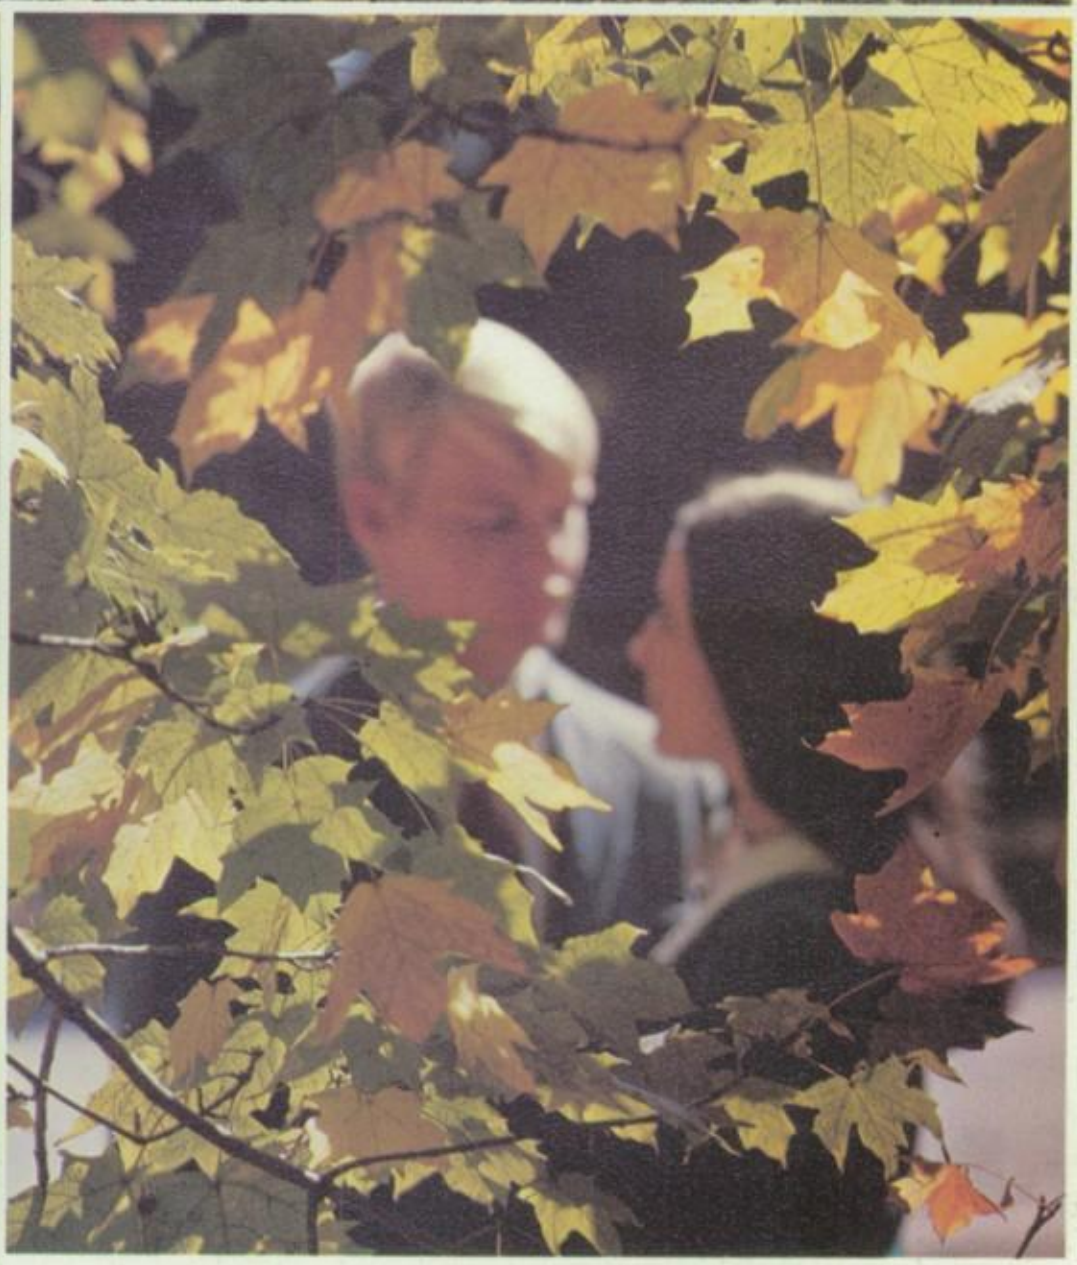
Administration and Faculty





Mr. Davis Builds Pride, Congeniality, Tradition

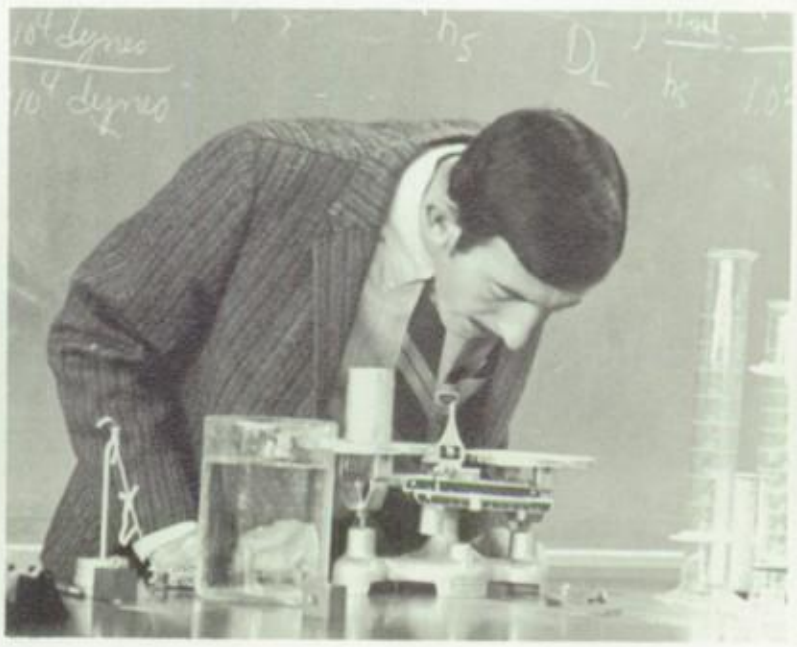
Foremost among the individuals who is honored as a builder of pride, congeniality and tradition in Kellam High School is our principal, Mr. Jefferson Davis. This tall, stately Knight is often seen conversing with students and teachers, keeping a finger on the pulse of academic and extracurricular activities. He has time for everyone and is a part of everything that happens at Kellam.

A native of the Tidewater area, Mr. Davis received his bachelor's degree from Elon College and his master's degree from the College of William and Mary. He has been a member of the faculties of Princess Anne and Kempsville High Schools, assistant principal of Oceana High School and Principal of Woodstock Elementary.

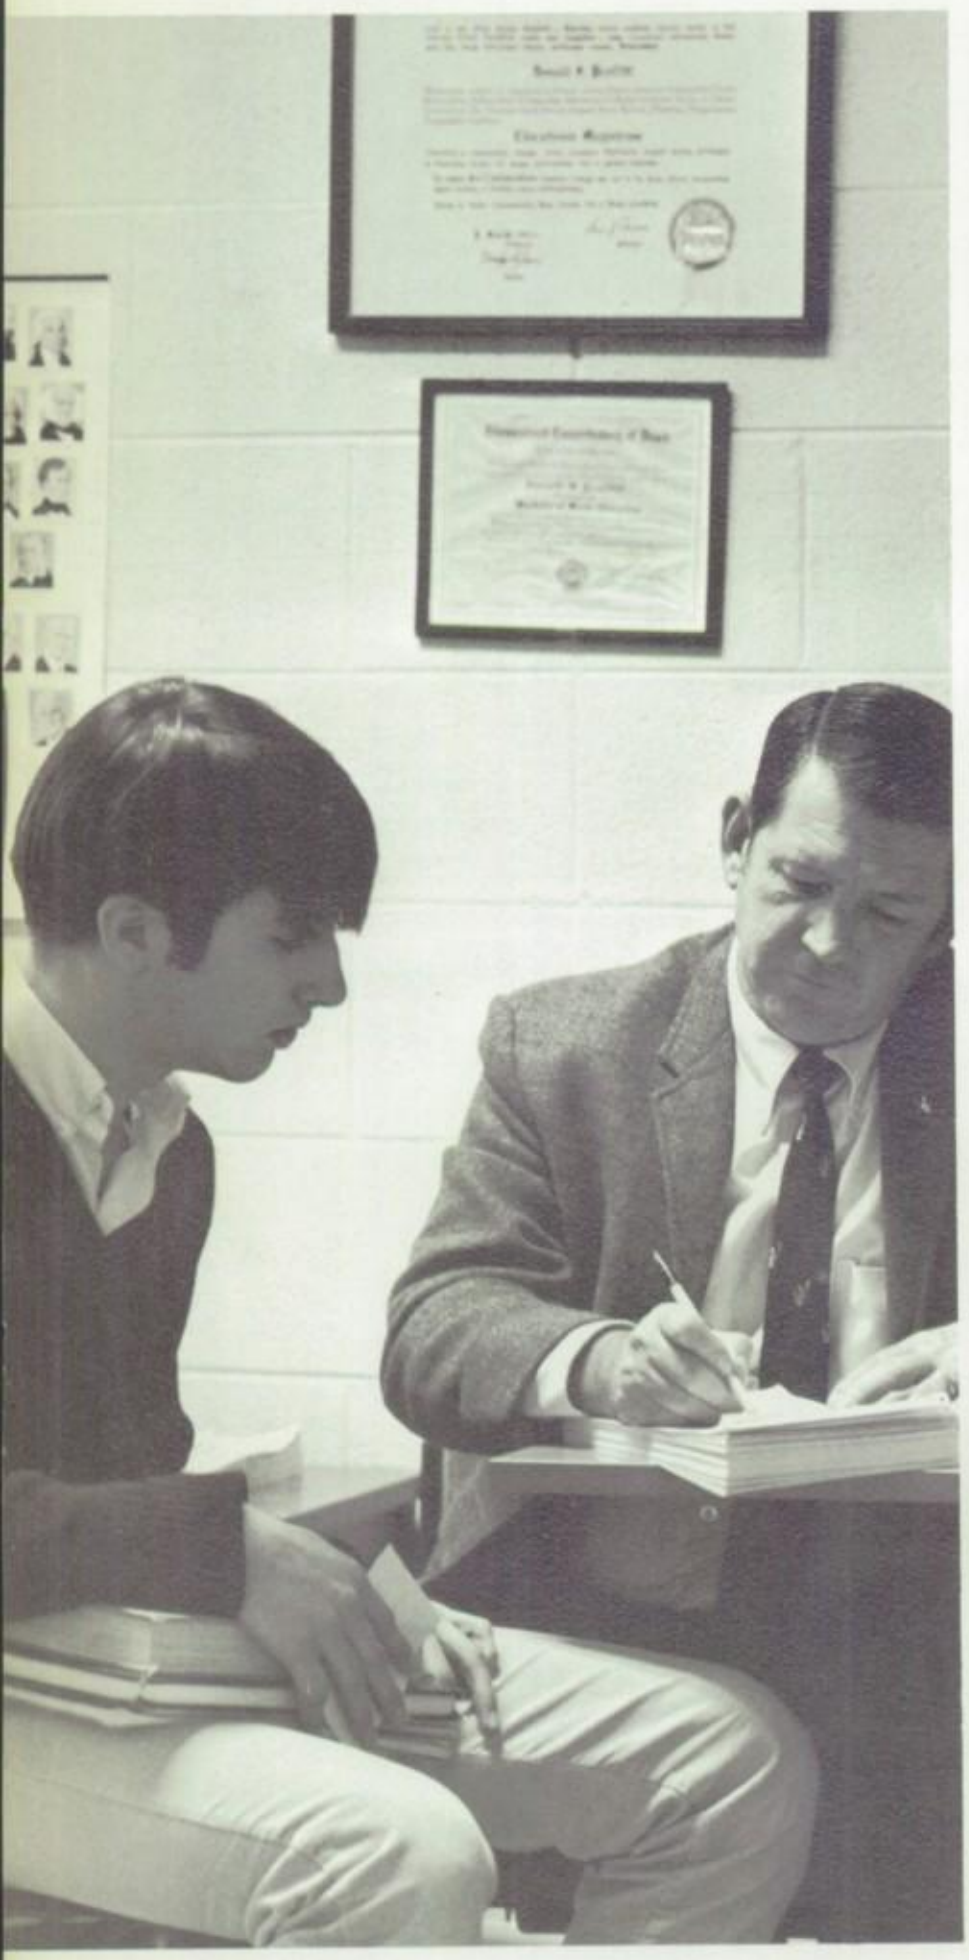
Mr. Davis is a scholar, a historian, a photographer, an accomplished writer, and a true Southern gentleman. He is liberal but definite, traditional but receptive to new ideas and advanced methods.

It has been said that the first thing one notices about Mr. Davis is that he has a firm, friendly handshake for everyone he meets. The ancients held that the handshake is a symbol of brotherhood and friendship. Both of these qualities our principal esteems highly. He truly stand as a symbol of our school motto: Paseite Liberatum Scientia, "Feed Freedom With Knowledge."

Individuals learn not solely from books, but more importantly from people. It is the responsibility of the administration and faculty not to govern our lives as students, but, through their example, to challenge and guide us. We accept the challenge of learning with full realization that education will breed intiative and creativity. Our teachers and administrators influence us to think with independence and act with purpose; they mold the present as well as the future. Here we honor our educators.



Guidance Department Interviews, Tests, And Directs



Mr. Proffitt exemplifies the typical counselor.

Interviewing, testing, directing and assisting were some of the functions of the Guidance Department. The department has tried to prevent the square peg from reaching the round hole and vice-versa.

Worried parents as well as students sought the services of our guidance counselors who have been specially trained to offer assistance in academic, vocational, and personal problems.

The counselors helped the students select courses which would prepare them for future vocations. These counselors also helped juniors and seniors with making college choices and making certain that entrance requirements were fulfilled. Administering college boards, National Merit, PSAT, ACT, and STEP tests was also their responsibility.

Mr. Duke has spent another year successfully heading the Guidance Department and has, this year, served also as the counselor of the Senior Class. Mr. Copley returned for another year, but this time as the Junior Class counselor. Mr. Proffitt, another returning counselor, has helped ninth graders start making decisions about their future educational plans. Two new faces, Mrs. Spain and Mrs. Bentley, have done a most successful job of aiding the eighth graders with their transfer to the new junior high school. Mrs. Williams, who is also a new face, has spent this year guiding the Sophomore Class.

Administrators Display Vision, Determination, Drive

Mr. George Tepo

Determination and drive are two of Mr. Tepo's strongest characteristics. His determination showed on the football fields of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Fordham University. It took tremendous drive to play for both the Boston Yanks and the Baltimore Colts. This determination and drive can be seen today in the pride he shows for Kellam High School and the foresight he demonstrates as assistant principal.

The same determined man that played a hard game of football in the 1942 Sugar Bowl Game for the Eastern Army Allstars now guides students from unwise paths onto better roads. The same understanding man who taught history and government here at Kellam for two years and went on to be assistant principal and athletic director in 1963 can now be seen in the halls discussing with students their problems and in the office recommending a student for another chance.

Mr. Tepo proves that the Greek ideal of physical stamina going hand-in-hand with knowledge is a reality and that every student has an opportunity to realize his goal.

Miss Shirley Rountree

Every individual needs vision to make decisions that may affect others. Miss Rountree, assistant principal in charge of curriculum, is a person of compassion and vision. Realizing that the decisions she makes will affect the lives of others, Miss Rountree sets an example for the individuals of Kellam High School.

Having served as a guidance counselor, taught history, and worked as director of religious education for the United States Army in Germany, Miss Rountree fully understands the problems individuals must face. Using the firm hand of discipline and the soft-heart of guidance, she helps students through one of the most trying periods of their lives and makes Kellam the fine school it is.

Kellam's Service Personnel Is Inconspicuously

Mrs. Simpson, dietician, prepares for a break.

The fact that Kellam students take their clean halls and carefully planned lunches for granted is testimony to the inconspicuous efficiency with which Kellam's Service Personnel execute their daily work. Quite often what these people do overreaches its expected limits. From the early morning hours, when the cooks are preparing doughnuts for breakfast and also lunches for over 2700 students and faculty, to the quiet of late evening when the custodians work to reorganize the school for the next day's activities, our Service Personnel strive constantly to maintain Kellam's pleasant, cheerful atmosphere.

The cafeteria staff provides dinners for banquets, buffets, and also prepares refreshments for special occasions. The maintenance staff works long hours caring for the lawn, doing minor repairs around the school, and cleaning the school. This staff also spends extra time at school to clean after any night time function.

The Clinic Staff, consisting of an R.N. and members of the student body, is always careful to safeguard the health of the students and faculty, and, like all the people involved in this department, is ever willing to extend themselves to the students to brighten their school experience.

Sunday Movies

The English Department has added many new innovations to its already vast storehouse of facilities this year. To add to the cultural enrichment of the students the English Department has sponsored a series of films this year including the expressive Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner, the touching drama David and Lisa, and Sir Laurence Olivier's beautiful Shakespearean adaption of Henry V. Several Kellam students were able to hear a lecture by John Ciardi, and see the play She Stoops to Conquer at Princess Anne High School.

Expansion In Math Is Foreseen

The Mathematics Department of Kellam High School offers a broad program to all students and aims to develop and strengthen the mathematical competency of each student and to provide for the requirements of the academic and non-academic student.

To fulfill the objectives of the department, the mathematics curriculum has been revised to provide a modern mathematics program that will offer an array of materials and experiences for all grade levels. The new curriculum eliminates the traditional trigonometry course and merges trigonometry with Algebra II, introduces Math's III and IV (a two-year Algebra I course) and provides for the teaching of calculus.

Other new courses included in the curriculum for those not college-bound are Math IR, General Math II and consumer mathematics.

Social Studies Department

Political Interest

This year our Social Studies Department has been actively engaged in the study of our present national political system. Two projects were organized as a result of the National elections this fall. A week before the election a panel of men, each representing one of the three major presidential candidates, met in an assembly and discussion period for Juniors and Seniors. In the edition of the Roundtable just prior to the elections there was balloting on several matters including the choice of candidates and why. George Wallace won the election, according to 42% of Kellam students who voted. Nixon received 36%, and running a sorry third, Humphrey drew 16%. Our students showed their conservative trend when they voted 38% in favor of Wallace on his civil rights issue and 39% on his crime issue.

Foreign Language Department Emphasizes New Advances In Teaching Technology

Foreign Language students this year are continuing to enjoy the benefits of new advances in teaching technology. New electronical mechanisms, including consoles and testing booths, are aiding both beginning and advanced students.

Nearly every language felt the growing pains this year as there are more language courses and an increased number of students in each class. The use of the language labs, therefore, has been spread out, giving the individual student fewer hours of their use. This is the first year of combined fourth and fifth year French and Spanish classes. The German classes were expanded.

Field Trips And Demonstrations Aid Science Students

I wonder if it is a he or she?

Most students in the course of the day pass through the science wing, which consists of one whole corridor and a portion of the bottom floor of the new wing. Often a student passing may smell odors like rotten eggs or tear gas coming from the chemistry labs. Or they may see the remnants of a frog or some other now unidentifiable creature peering out of one of the biology labs.

Someone passing Mrs. Keister's classes nearly always sees her holding up some object and apparently explaining it. Mr. Nagey's classes are usually completely involved in a movie or film strip. This year many of the biology classes took field trips, and the living results of one may still be seen in Miss Prendergast's room. The members of the physics classes took a trip with the other physics students in the city to the nuclear power plant being built by VEPCO in Surry, Virginia.

Business Department Stresses Vocational Skills

The typing classes are the major portion of the Business Department. In typing, shorthand, and notehand classes common sense and coordination are combined to produce top quality performance. Business law, business economics, and general business comprise the rest of the department.

The Business Department trains those who wish to continue in business as a part of the industrial complex by aiding them to secure a firm basis from which to spring into business schools or technical business courses in college, as well as aiding those who wish to increase their communicative skills. The department prepares college-bound students for the demanding responsibilities of college.

Putting their knowledge of the native land of their language to use, several groups of foreign language students participated in the Cultural Assembly organized by the I.C.C. The Assembly spotlighted immigrants' contributions to our country. The gaiety of Parisian nights was expressed by a French song and dance. Vocational Students Gain Various Skills

The Industrial Arts Department instructs our students in fields that have long been practiced by skilled artisans. Since time began the artisans have been a highly respected group of individuals because of their numerous contributions to society.

A visitor to the Industrial Arts Department would find students working on both woods and metals and perhaps studying the constructive properties of each. He may see our agriculture students going over a lesson on the advantages of natural fertilizers. He may also observe the mechanical drawing class discussing their plans, or possibly they would be discussing the comparative durability of a particular geometric form.

Next year a class on horticulture will be added to the department as well as a mechanical drawing class for girls. The value of this department is that the skills learned can be used not only by students in mechanical and manual vocations but also by all people living in our mechanical age.

Home Economics Department Prepares Girls For Future

The Home Economics Department at Floyd E. Kellam High School offers a wide variety of courses to help prepare our young ladies for the future tasks of household finance and family life. The homemaking programs include child care, foods, family living, clothing, nutrition, grooming, marriage and textiles. The needs, values, and interests of the pupils and families in the community are considered in determining the background for the program.

The newest additions to the 1969 homemaking program are short term classes in clothing construction and decorating offered to faculty members.

The Physical Education Department's purpose is to promote physical fitness and, by so doing, aid mental and emotional fitness. The physical education program includes driver's education; health, which stresses anatomy, physiology, first aid, and a study of the systems of the human body, including a study of the brain and the nervous system, in addition to practical courses stressing the acquisition of fundamental skills. Instruction is offered at all grade levels and is keyed to the needs of students in each age group.

Arts Stress Variety

The Fine Arts Department strives to give students the opportunity to study instrumental and choral music and art and to develop their talents in these fields.

In the fall the band marched at the football games and in many parades. The A Band won a trophy this fall for precision drill in the Columbus Day Parade. The fall for the art department included a display in the cafeteria of student's art work, as well as their attractive display case.

Christmas was marked by concerts given by both the bands and the choruses. The art students also worked on stained glass and printed blocks for homemade Christmas cards.

The spring season began with the Regional Band performing in the first week of February. Kellam boasts six A Band members retaining honorable seats. Two weeks later was the Solo and Ensemble Festival at which one student gained a blue medal on grade six solo, the highest honor a student can achieve. Regional for the chorus followed, and then the Music Festival for all city bands and choruses.

The spring concerts of both the band and chorus stressed variation. In the Armed Forces Day Parade, the A Band took the first place award for the fourth time in five years; and the B Band took a second place in the Knotts' Island Festival Parade.

Bob Peterson demonstrates good shooting form.

All Development

An adaptive program exists to meet the needs of students unable to follow the regular program of vigorous activity.

The physical education program and curriculum this year included special elective courses for students at the junior and senior levels. Both boys' and girls' classes stressed advanced proficiency in individual and team sports.

Kellam High School was represented at several district and city meets by teams chosen from the physical education classes. These teams also performed several times during the half time of home basketball games.

Features and Fine Arts

Individuals strive for excellence in all their endeavors. In the artistic aspects of curricular activities, the individuals of Kellam have produced work par excellence. Yet, excellence does not necessitate solemnity; we enjoy life. There must be diversions to allow us to expand our spirit as well as our minds. We, therefore, savor the lighter side of life through memorable activities, sometimes gay and heartwarming, sometimes sad and solemn. For posterity we leave a heritage of useful ceremony and glorious tradition. Here we review our moments of constructive excellence and enjoyment.

Lil' Abner's Dogpatch Comes to Kellam

Yeah, but the fish don't know that . . .

The characters of the cartoon strip Lil' Abner were brought to life on December 5-9 in the Drama Club presentation of Lil' Abner. Directed by Miss Laura Rice, drama teacher, the club's second annual musical production was a smashing success.

Casts A and B alternated for the four night run of the play. The stars of cast A were Larry Reeseman as Lil' Abner and Colleen Thompson as Daisy Mae Yokum. In cast B these roles were played by Dennis Gomez and Carole Moore. Both casts were enthusiastically received by the audience.

The antics of the Dogpatch hillbillies created quite a stir among the aficionados of the theatre. The lively songs and animated dialogue were enhanced by the vivid acting of the Kellam students.

A Senior Scholarship

Friday night, February 21, the fearless faculty of Kellam High School braved broken bones and bloody noses to raise money for a senior scholarship. Under the dauntless leadership of Coach Ralph, the upperclass teachers were pitted against Mrs. Nielsen and her underclass brigade in a fast-paced, hilarious basketball game which was played on tricycles.

Action was exciting and farcical for both the players and the referees, Mike Futrell and Mike Sawyer, who bravely tallied the hits and misses and untangled the players and tricycles. Despite creaking ankles and quavering voices, faculty members who served as cheerleaders valiantly rallied their teams.

In an action packed overtime the underclass teachers edged out the upperclass teachers. Credit goes to both teams for a hard fought game and ten smashed tricycles.

The Journeys Not Taken

Somewhere beyond the rainbow
Lies a pot of gold.
Somewhere beyond the rainbow,
That's what I was told.
Somewhere beyond the rainbow,
I must go and see.
Somewhere beyond the rainbow,
Lies my destiny.
That's what I said,
When I was young .
But I never searched
For where the rainbow led.
Over the last horizon,
Past the crystal sea.
Over the last horizon,
What will be my fate.
Over the last horizon,
It seems I could not wait.
That's how I talked,
When I was young.
But over the last horizon,
I had never walked.
Upon the golden ladder,
Up it to success.
Up the golder ladder,
I could never rest.
Upon the golden ladder,
Lies my destiny.
Up the golden ladder,
I must climb and see.
When I was young,
That's what I said,
But up the golden ladder
I hadn't climb a rung.
I learned too late,
Where lay my fate.
And I'm happy I had never trod
Over the rainbow,
Past my back yard.

Individuals unite to accomplish. The organizations and clubs of Kellam High School are neither cliques nor cliches, but active groups that aid in molding the individuals of this school into worthwhile citizens.

They afford us the opportunities to create, to serve, and to build. We therefore learn for ourselves the meaning of responsibility and democratic procedure. Not only do we work, but we also derive pleasure from seeing the results of what we have done together. Here we herald our moments of unity.

S.C.A. Exemplifies Duty, Honor, Service

Duty, honor, service are the three words which symbolize the S.C.A. This year's SCA, spearheaded by president Richard Williams, began the year with a whirlwind of events. The halls were decorated with psychedelic posters in shocking colors, which exhibited the motto: "SCA Lives." And alive and kicking the SCA was, as it undertook its first project, the orientation programs. The orientation programs, which were presented to the entire student body, dealt with both the serious and humorous side of the organization's plans.

The SCA's major project of the year was the sponsorship of the homecoming festivities. For Christmas the SCA sponsored a needy family and presented the student body with a three foot by five foot Christmas card. It also presented Mr. Davis with a rocking chair and gave gifts to Miss Rountree and Mr. Tepo.

Among the SCA's other projects were selling decals, sponsoring representatives to the Negro History Seminar, carrying on a student exchange program with Norview High School, and attending the Miller and Rhodes Forum, which dealt with international relations.

Teachers Defeat Monogram Club Members

The Monogram Club strives to recognize athletes at Kellam who have earned a varsity letter in a sport. Members must undergo a rigorous week of torture known as "Squire Week." If they survive, then they become full members and enter into the many activities of the club.

This year the boys went to see the Harlem Globetrotters when they appeared in Norfolk. Members also attended two Norfolk Neptune football games. Several nights a week the gym is kept open for "play night" so that the Monogram Club members can use the athletic equipment. In order to raise money, the club sponsored several dances. The profit from these projects was used to buy blazers.

The highlight of the year was a basketball game between the Junior and Senior classes. Class rivalry was sharply brought out as the Juniors fought the Seniors to a hard-won victory. That same night, the teachers proved their superiority by soundly defeating the Monogram Club.

Trinity Tri-Hi-Y Sponsors Keep Kellam Klean Week

The purpose of Trinity Tri-Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school and community. The club, which is affiliated with the Norfolk YMCA, operates on the platform of clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.

In fulfilling its purpose, Trinity Tri-Hi-Y, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lawana Meghinasso, activated a much needed clean-up campaign at Kellam. The campaign was greatly appreciated by the administration and improved the appearance of the school. The girls promoted cheerfulness throughout the school by sponsoring Smile Week. Students were reminded to smile by gay posters placed around the school. The members also decorated the teachers' lounges on certain holidays to make them more appealing. The club sold Kellam jewelry in order to earn money to contribute to World Service, a charity organization of the YMCA. Trinity collected over $150 for various other charities. The girls also made Christmas a little brighter for a welfare family by giving them food and clothing and presenting them with gifts.

"New Dimensions"

Drama Club Originates Theater-In-The-Round

As in the professional theatre, September marked the beginning of the dramatic season at Kellam. The Drama Club started with a successful musical, Li'l Abner. In the spring Kellam received an excellent rating for an original one-act drama, "Eleanor Rigby." This play was presented in "New Directions," a series of one-act plays featuring a play by Tennessee Williams. In May the Kellam Thespians won two first place standings in the Shakespeare Invitational. A most successful season was ended on May 24 as several members were inducted into the National Thespian Society at the First Annual Kelly Awards.

Girls Develop Interest In Sports Through GAA

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association participate in basketball, field hockey, volleyball, and gymnastics in an attempt to promote and recognize girls' sports with high standards of sportsmanship and fair play. Membership is open to all girls with a willingness to participate in the club activities and to girls who have a great interest in sports.

This year the girls introduced a new sport to their long list of activities. Each Wednesday night during the fall, GAA members went bowling at Princess Anne Plaza. The girls also worked with gymnastics whenever it was possible. Under the supervision of Miss Holdren, the GAA gave girls at Kellam a chance to participate actively in athletic events.

Fellowship Of Christian Athletes Encourages Christian Attitudes In Sports

Alan Clements and John Grady discuss the latest edition of the FCA magazine with Coach Ralph.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes started its first year under the leadership of Coach Bill Ralph, who was ably assisted by co-captains Alan Clemens and Scott Houston. Its purpose is to show how the teachings of Christ relate to athletes and, through athletics, to life itself.

The club's first year was based strongly on organizing as a functioning group; however, they did have several prominent athletes as guest speakers. Gary Glick, former Norfolk Neptune coach, appeared at one meeting. Other speakers who spoke to the Club were Ernie Fears, the basketball coach from Norfolk State; Bob Campbell, assistant football coach at the University of Virginia; and Johnny Jordan, former Southern Conference wrestler.

Distributive Education Club Demonstrates Better Business Practices To Students

The Distributive Education Program is a course designed for those students who express an interest in the field of distribution. The DE program at Kellam is divided into two different segments. First there are the DE II classes. These students are the first ones to experience class work coupled with on the job training. They study various subjects relating to the field of business. Second, there are the DE III classes. These students study more advanced courses in economics and store management.

The Distributive Education Club received its new banner which symbolizes the purpose of the DE club. This year there were approximately sixty-five members in the club. Among some of the activities carried out during the year were a car wash, installation of club members, and finally the holding of the District I Contest meeting in February. Gloria Parten and Rodney Duncan represented Kellam in the contest by winning second and third places as DE students of the year. The DE club also held a banquet in April for the employers who had been helpful in supplying part-time employment for the students.

Le Cercle Entre Nous Completes Successful Year

Le Cercle Entre Nous was a huge success in its first year, due in a large measure to the wonderful co-operation of all members.

Its purpose is to interest students in French culture and to strengthen relations between the United States and France.

A French dinner was sponsored by the club. The dinner was cooked and served by members with the aid of several French women from the community. The Cultural Assembly was the highlight of the year. The theme for this occasion was Liberty, Equality and Fraternity. The purpose of the assembly was to better acquaint the members of the club with the customs of France.

The club had various speakers appear at their meetings this year. Mr. Pierre Schmidt, the French consul in Norfolk, spoke about France's ideas in today's world. Mr. Richard Cobb, professor at Fredrick College, also spoke.

Mr. Schmitz speaks on the Franco-American relationship.

Spanish Culture Is Emphasized Through Art

Carol Knight and Theresa Jordan examine Latin American culture.

This year the Spanish Club was newly formed. There is a two-fold purpose to the club. One purpose is to give the members an opportunity to speak in the language at length. Doing this enables the students to use Spanish in many different situations. The other is to expose the students to elements of a foreign culture.

The club sponsored an art show in the library foyer this year. This show was open to all the students at Kellam, and a twenty-five dollar prize was offered. The show was sponsored to stimulate interest in Spanish and Latin American art.

During the winter, Roberto Montenegro from Panama came to Virginia Beach to visit his sister. While he was here, he came to see how an American school is run and stayed for a meeting of the Spanish Club. The members were able to communicate with Roberto, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

To raise money for their projects the Spanish Club sold baked goods and held a car wash.

Key Club Sponsors

Frank Sinatra Jr. And Annual Turkey Trot

Club sponsors Mr. Hathaway and Mr. Gregor preside over Valentine party.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Gregor and Mr. Hathaway, the Key Club of Kellam High School handled many projects throughout the year. Among these projects were doughnut sales for charity and the sale of boosters for a Kiwanis Gospel Sing Program. Tickets for the Kiwanis Easter Gospel Sing were all sold by members of the club.

The motto of the club which is "service" was clearly shown this year. As a service to the student body, Key Clubbers compiled and had printed student directories. A breakfast party for the women teachers on Valentine's Day was given by the club.

Other events sponsored by the club were a one night performance of Frank Sinatra Jr., the annual Turkey Trot, which was co-sponsored by the Keyettes. The club also attended the District Convention in Richmond and won first place with their float in the Homecoming parade. New members were inducted in the fall and spring of the year.

Club members who attended the District Convention in Richmond are John Hines, Bobby Eason, John Sachon, John Hargrove, and Jeff Lundy.

Club Studies Literary Aspects Of Bible

The Bible Club made its appearance at Kellam as a welcomed addition to the extracurricular activities available to the students. It is composed of students who are interested in learning more about the Bible as a guide for living and as a source of history and literature.

The club strives to understand the teachings of the Bible and relate them to the life of young people today. Different beliefs and religions are studied and discussed by the members. Students try to define their own beliefs while being tolerant of those who hold different beliefs.

Activities for the year included visits to two area churches, an outing in the spring, and attendance at the annual banquet for Bible Clubs of the Portsmouth, Norfolk, Hampton, Chesapeake, and Virginia Beach area.

The Bible Club undertook several projects during the year. One of these projects was a babysitting service provided during the presentation of "Lil' Abner." Another project was a continuing tutoring service with assistance from volunteer student tutors.

Davis Hi-Y Doughnut Sales Aid Charities

Service was the keynote of the year for the Jefferson Davis Hi-Y. The boys sold doughnuts on Saturday mornings for a period of several months. The sizable amount of money raised from this successful project was donated to the Joy Fund. The club also made contributions to the March of Dimes and to various other charities in the Virginia Beach area. Members also helped out at activities at the local Y.M.C.A. Duties at the "Y" included aiding at the Open House and helping with the office work.

The many activities performed by the Hi-Y reflected its purpose which is to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character. Under the leadership of Mike Hogan, president; Ronnie Lundy, vice-president; Lester Mulcher, secretary; and Gerald Chebetar, treasurer, the club made valuable contributions to the school and community.

Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y Sponsors Miss Kellam Pageant

The highlight of the year for the Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y was their annual Miss Kellam Pageant. Crowned as Miss Kellam 1969 was Susy Davis.

Projects for the year included the Heart Fund. During the Christmas holidays Epsilon members worked in the Norfolk Y.M.C.A. office filing, typing, and looking up addresses.

In the spring representatives attended the Model General Assembly in Richmond. M.G.A. is a practical experience in the operation of the government of Virginia. All in all, Epsilon fulfilled its purpose: to create, maintain and extend high standards of Christian character in the home, school and community.

Martin Kernutt Attends FFA Convention In Kansas

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Nichols, the Future Farmers of America had a very active year. The purpose of the FFA is to create competent, aggressive rural and agricultural leadership; to develop and nurture the love of country life; and to encourage scholarship.

Participation by the club came in the form of forestry judging, crop judging, livestock judging, tractor driving, and public speaking. The club won various prizes in these competions.

The Annual FFA Convention was held in Kansas City. Martin Kernutt was chosen to represent the club there.

Skills learned in the club are forest management, elective welding, plumbing, soldering, gas welding, wood and glass-ware along with other skills.

Anyone who tuned in channel 27 during Christmas probably was greeted with the beautiful musical notes of the Kellam Concert Chorus. The chorus presented a Christmas Concert on that TV channel over the holidays. The program of carols and Christmas songs was highly successful.

Continuing its policy of presenting enjoyable recitals, the chorus sang at a Virginia Beach Optimist Club meeting. The format was much like that presented last year by the cast of "Up, Up and Away." In May the chorus gave its annual Spring Concert. Under the direction of Mr. Frank Tatem, the chorus presented music ranging from Handel to popular numbers. This concert brought a very musical year to a close.

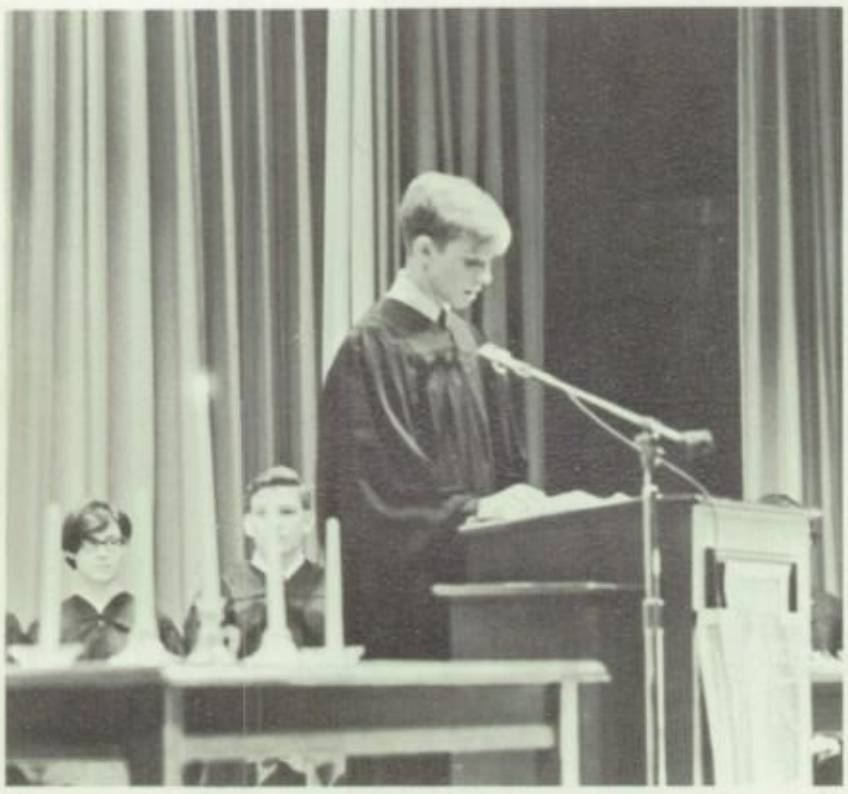
Honor Society Promotes Service And Scholarship



Bill Tillman presides over tapping ceremony.

The National Honor Society strives to bring recognition to those students who are a credit to their school and community and who have a high scholastic average. Students who maintain a "B" average are judged on the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Those students selected for membership are tapped at an impressive candlelight ceremony. This year the ceremony ended with a note of surprise as Miss Mary Rainey, NHS sponsor, was tapped as an honorary member.

The Honor Society not only recognizes outstanding scholars, but this year it also recognized students who do not belong to the society but who contribute greatly to the school. Each month, the club chose one of these students as Citizen of the Month. At the end of the year, the Citizen of the year was chosen. In addition to its other activities, the National Honor Society also printed the honor rolls each six weeks and each semester. A major money making project for the club was the sale of fortune cookies. The money from this activity and from the Mile of Pennies Drive went into the Geneva McCollum Scholarship fund.

Pep Club Provides Transportation To Games

Members of the student body who are interested in promoting school spirit found an interest in the Pep Club. Under the dedicated sponsorship of Miss Deborah McElwee, the club engaged in many projects this year. The members painted spirit signs for all athletic games throughout the year. Cheerleaders received mums from the Pep Club for some football games. In order to get more student support at the football games, the Pep Club provided buses to and from all games. This greatly improved spirit at the games by allowing students without transportation to come to the games.

The club topped off the year by sponsoring Spirit Week. During this week, Tacky Day and Quiet Day were introduced. These two days received a spirited response from the entire student body.

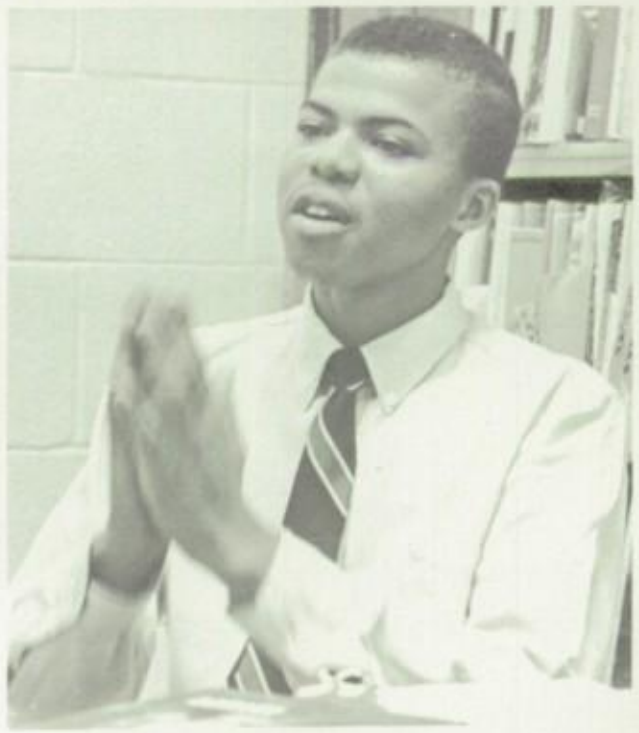
Inter-Club Council Introduces New Regulations

The Inter-Club Council is a branch of the S.C.A. and has the job of supervising all club activities within the school. Members consist of the president of each organization with the vice-president of the S.C.A. serving as chairman.

Under the leadership of sponsor Mrs. Hallock, chairman Rod Amis, and secretary Kathy Hahn, the Inter-Club Council has carried out its purpose of coordinating club activities within the school. This year's I.C.C. revised the existing point system so that individuals could participate in more activities. A new advertising code was adopted which limited the number of posters an organization could have to announce an event or project. The Council also revised the dance code. Each club represented in the I.C.C. contributed various amounts of money toward a scholarship for a deserving Senior.



Rod Amis pleads for a new point system.

FBLA Theme

"Opportunities Abound In the Business World"

"Service, education and progress" is the motto of the Future Business Leaders of America. The purpose of this club is to create interest in the business field; to develop character and leadership; and to strengthen confidence among the young people in the fast-paced business world of today. The FBLA also strives to improve and establish standards for entrance into store and office occupation.

FBLA members chose "Opportunities in the Business World" as the theme for this year. This theme was brought out well by the hard-working members under the supervision of their sponsors, Miss E. A. Jones, and Mrs. Foster.

Projects for the year included several guest speakers who helped to inform the club members of the changing business world. FBLA members also represented Kellam High School at the State FBLA convention in April. The convention was held at the Cavalier Hotel in Virginia Beach.

Goofy-Footers Gain Status

This year a group of active Kellam Surfers banded together to form the Kellam Surfing Association. The surfers selected Miss Elizabeth M. Dobyns and Mr. Vic Gregory as sponsors. Club officers were Allen Craig Dudley, president; Mike Welsh, vice-president; Larry Riggs, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the Surfing Association is to promote surfing in Virginia Beach and to offer students interested in surfing an organized club. In doing so, they promoted a better image of and outlook on surfing; encouraged safe surfing and water safety; and taught the methods involved in constructing a surfboard.

Kellam's Surfing Association raised money to gravel the high school parking lot. Their year-long projects included such money-raising activities as car washes.

Art Club Travels To Richmond And Williamsburg

The Kellam Art Club journeyed to Richmond and to Williamsburg during March to visit various centers of art in those cities. While in Richmond, the members viewed the art works in the Richmond Museum. That same day the club stopped in Williamsburg to visit the 20th Century Art Gallery and the Pottery Factory. At the Pottery Factory, Art Club members were shown the various stages of pottery making.

The Art Club enables interested students to learn through casual introduction to different media and the work of local artists. This year the club worked in different crafts. They made candleholders and even experimented with the new papier mache jewelry. During the spring, Art Club members worked with copper enameling. They took short sketching trips in search of interesting scenes to draw. The members also took part in discussion groups where they studied various artists and their styles. In order to raise money, the Art Club held bake sales and conducted car washes. At the end of the year the Silver Palette Award was given to the most outstanding art student.

Club Explores Advantages Of Teaching As A Career

Members of the Future Teachers of America undertook a very exciting and rewarding project this year. The club visited Courthouse Elementary School for two days and observed teaching methods in a classroom atmosphere. FTA members took an active part by helping the teachers with their duties. This classroom participation enabled the club members to see how a teacher performs his job and to evaluate teaching as a career.

In addition to this major project, the club also performed several services within the school. At Thanksgiving the FTA gave a basket of food to a poor family near Kellam. At Christmas the teachers were presented with candy canes in honor of the season. The club also donated money to the Nancy Strickler Scholarship Fund.

To show Kellam's appreciation to Mrs. Borracis for her concern for the young people of today, the FTA presented her with a dozen roses. The club completed a very busy year under the leadership of its sponsor, Miss Forrell; president, Ray Burns; vice-president, Kim Land; secretary, Sheila Vess; treasurer, Angel Zepperi; and reporter-historian, Sharon Beard.

ROUNDTABLE Continues Heritage Of Accurate Reporting

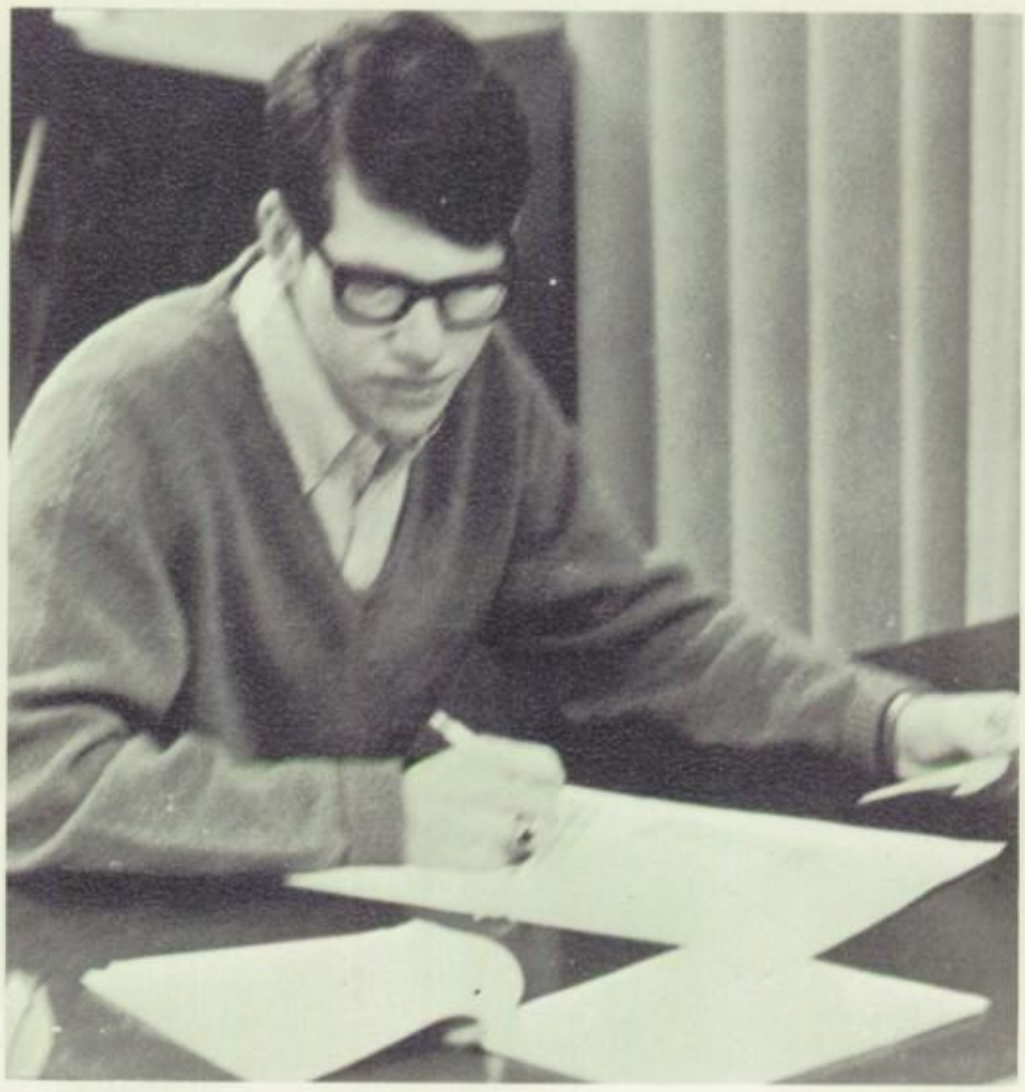
Continuing a fine heritage of accurate and fair reporting of school events, Kellam's ROUNDTABLE has completed another successful year. Under the direction of Mrs. Leanne Larkin and Miss Eleanor Hayes, the hardworking staff has published nine papers, including a separate senior issue.

In a recent three-day trip to Lexington, Virginia, for the Southern Inter-Scholastic Press Association, two members of the staff gained an achievement award in competition, in addition to much valuable journalistic information.

The mechanics of producing a newspaper are long and difficult. The average of two weeks taken in the making of a paper are filled with frantic action.

After the reporter has written his copy, it must often be rewritten to correct errors of grammar and composition; and after the story has been corrected, it goes to the printers to be set in type and returned on long strips of paper called galleys. Errors in these galleys are corrected, and "make-up" begins. "Make-up" refers to the construction of a proposed newspaper, using the type-set galleys, on blank pages called dummies. This is the most difficult job in the construction of a paper, as it involves careful arranging to allow the stories to fit. After headlines and cutlines (captions) have been written, the pages are sent again to the printer.

The printer sets up the page according to the dummies made up by the staff. Final corrections are made to this page, and the completed paper is sent to another building for photo-offset printing.



Mike Merritt, editor, compares galley proofs with the original copy sheets.

Newspaper advisors Mrs. Larkin and Miss Hayes discuss possible assignments for the next issue.

Hard Working Y-Teens Complete Successful Year

Ugly Boy winner Chuck Connelly is crowned by Y-Teen Ann Moore.

To grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions and nationalities is the purpose of the Alpha Sigma Phi Y-Teens. The Y-Teens is a branch of the YWCA and works with it to carry out the goals of the YWCA. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Miss Lucas; President, Ann Moore; vice-president, Cathy Perkins; secretary, Carol Gibson; and parliamentarian, Marie Flora, the Y-Teens completed several projects which benefitted the school and community.

The highlight of the year's activities for these hard-working girls was the annual Ugly Boy Contest. The crowning of Chuck Connelly as Ugly Boy brought the contest to a successful close. With the money raised from this project, the Y-Teens made a contribution to World Fellowship, a charity organization of the YWCA. At Thanksgiving, the girls donated a basket of food and clothing to a needy family. During Christmas the lobby in front of the library was brightened by a Christmas tree which the club decorated. The girls also made stockings filled with fruit and candy for the elderly people in Lakeside Convalescent Home. The girls also worked hard on a float which took part in the Homecoming parade.

Forensics Club Makes Its Appearance At Kellam

This was an organizational year for the newly formed Forensics Club. The purpose of the club is to develop interest in public speaking, public reading and debating.

Under the direction of Miss Ariail, members studied the techniques of debating and public speaking. They represented Kellam at the District Forensic Meet and at the Kempsville Shakespearean Competition.

Keyettes Bring Pucker Power To Kellam

A strange disease struck Kellam students about the time of St. Valentine's Day. For some strange reason, everyone went around with their mouths puckered up. Luckily, it was only caused by the Sweet Tarts that Keyettes were selling in order to raise money for various projects. Service projects were numerous this year for these girls. They decorated the teachers' lounges for all holidays and gave them cookies and cakes. At Christmas Keyettes gave generously to a family whose house burnt down and to a family at Courthouse and a local detention home. The Keyettes also support a foster child in Vietnam. Throughout the year, they gave aid to a former cafeteria worker who is disabled by cancer.

Money raising projects included the annual sale of candy canes at Christmas, sponsoring the Turkey Trot with the Key Club, and working in the concession stands at all home football games. With this money, the Keyettes gave two $100 scholarships and donated to the ICC scholarship.

Library Club Works To Raise Scholarship

Directing students to the encyclopedias or helping them to find a particular book among shelves-full is the constant duty of members of the Library Club. These dedicated students work in the library during their study halls, helping to shelve books, assisting the librarians, and checking books in and out for the students.

In spite of the fact that the Library Club has no elected officers, the organization completed several projects this year. In memory of Mrs. Strickler, the club founded a Nancy Strickler Scholarship. Money for this fund was raised from the sale of scented candles, and sachets. The club also donated a display table to the library in honor of Mrs. Strickler's contributions to Kellam and its students.

FHA Prepares Girls For Management Of A Successful Home

Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of students studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools and is supported primarily by membership dues and by club activities. Anyone who is taking or has taken a homemaking course may be a member.

FHA provides opportunities for developing individual and group initative in planning and carrying out activities related to the home.

The goal of FHA members is to help individuals improve personal, family and community living. To guide their activities toward this goal, Future Homemakers adopted a national objective or theme for this year. Activities centered around the theme of "Neighbors Near and Far" were a coffee for the faculty in the fall and a bake sale at Christmas. The club also donated a "Ginger bread house" to a needy family and sent toys to Viet Nam at Christmas.

Other club activities included the sale of tooth brushes as a money raising drive and the participation in the FHA Spring Rally held at Princess Anne High School.

Future Nurses Club Explores Careers In Nursing

The Future Nurses Club at Kellam strives to promote an understanding of nursing and of the many opportunities which it offers. The members gain knowledge of different nursing programs through visits to local hospitals. They also visited area colleges that offer nursing courses. This year the club invited representatives of the Armed Forces to speak about the various scholarships offered to girls interested in a career in nursing.

During the year, the club sponsored bake sales in order to finance their trips. In February, the Future Nurses sold red and white carnations for Valentine's Day. Another money raising project was the sale of mugs with the Kellam coat-of-arms. The proceeds from these various projects went into a scholarship fund.

Membership in the Future Nurses Club is open once a year to all girls with an over-all "C" average who are in the 10th, 11th, or 12th grades. The officers for this year were Gail Whitehurst, president; Nancy Swanson, vice-president; and Lucy Dudley, secretary-treasurer.

Marching Band Takes Top Prizes In Several Parades

The Kellam Band, under the direction of Mr. Tom Swanson, had a very exciting and eventful year. Besides playing at pep rallies and football games, where they gave fantastic shows, the band marched in several parades. One of these was the Columbus Day Parade, in which the band won honorable mention and received a trophy. In the Armed Forces Day Parade, the band won top prize as the best civilian band for the fourth time.

Several students from the band represented Kellam in the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival, All-Regional Band, and the District II—A Band Festival in which the band received a "very good" rating. At the Senior Awards Assembly the John Phillip Sousa Award was given to the band's most outstanding senior, Ron Lundy.

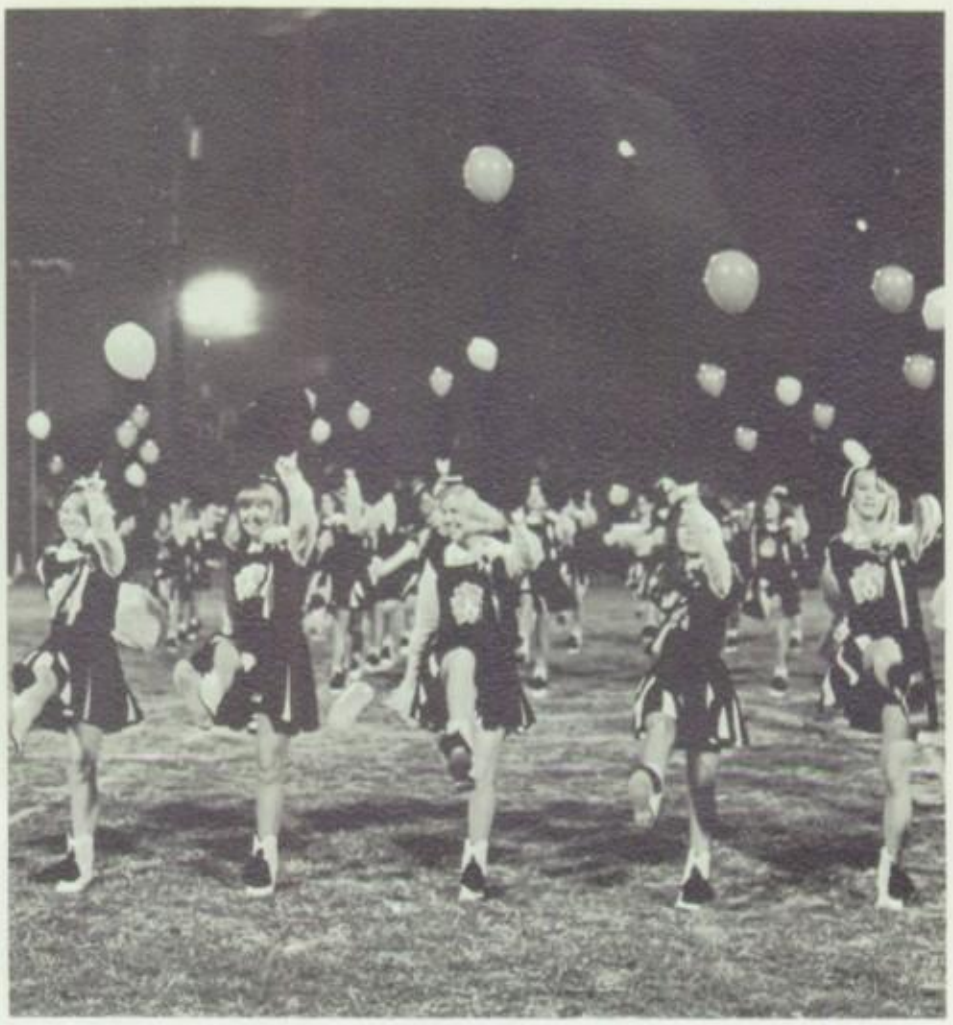
Drill Team Makes Many Parade Appearances

The Kellam Drill Team roamed far away from home this year. First the girls journeyed to Richmond to march along with the band in the Annual Tobacco Festival Parade. At Christmas the band and drill team went to Williamsburg to compete in the Kiwanis parade. The cobblestone streets were quite a change from the turf of the football field. The girls also marched in three parades at home in Tidewater. The members displayed their skill in the Oyster Bowl Parade, the Azalea Parade, and the Armed Forces Day Parade.

In addition to participating in parades, the drill team entertained at half-time at all home football games. The audiences were delighted when the girls performed the Teaberry Shuffle and other lively dances. The addition of more routines utilizing their black and white pom-pons helped to add a flashy new appearance to the short-skirted precision marchers.

The drill team consisted of 48 dedicated girls who worked hard under the direction of Mrs. Alice Hilty. Only a few of the girls will be returning next season, so the ranks will have to be filled with underclassmen newcomers.

Leading the drill team this year were co-captain Francis Warren and captain Carol Morrison.



The Drill Team performs enthusiastically during half-time.

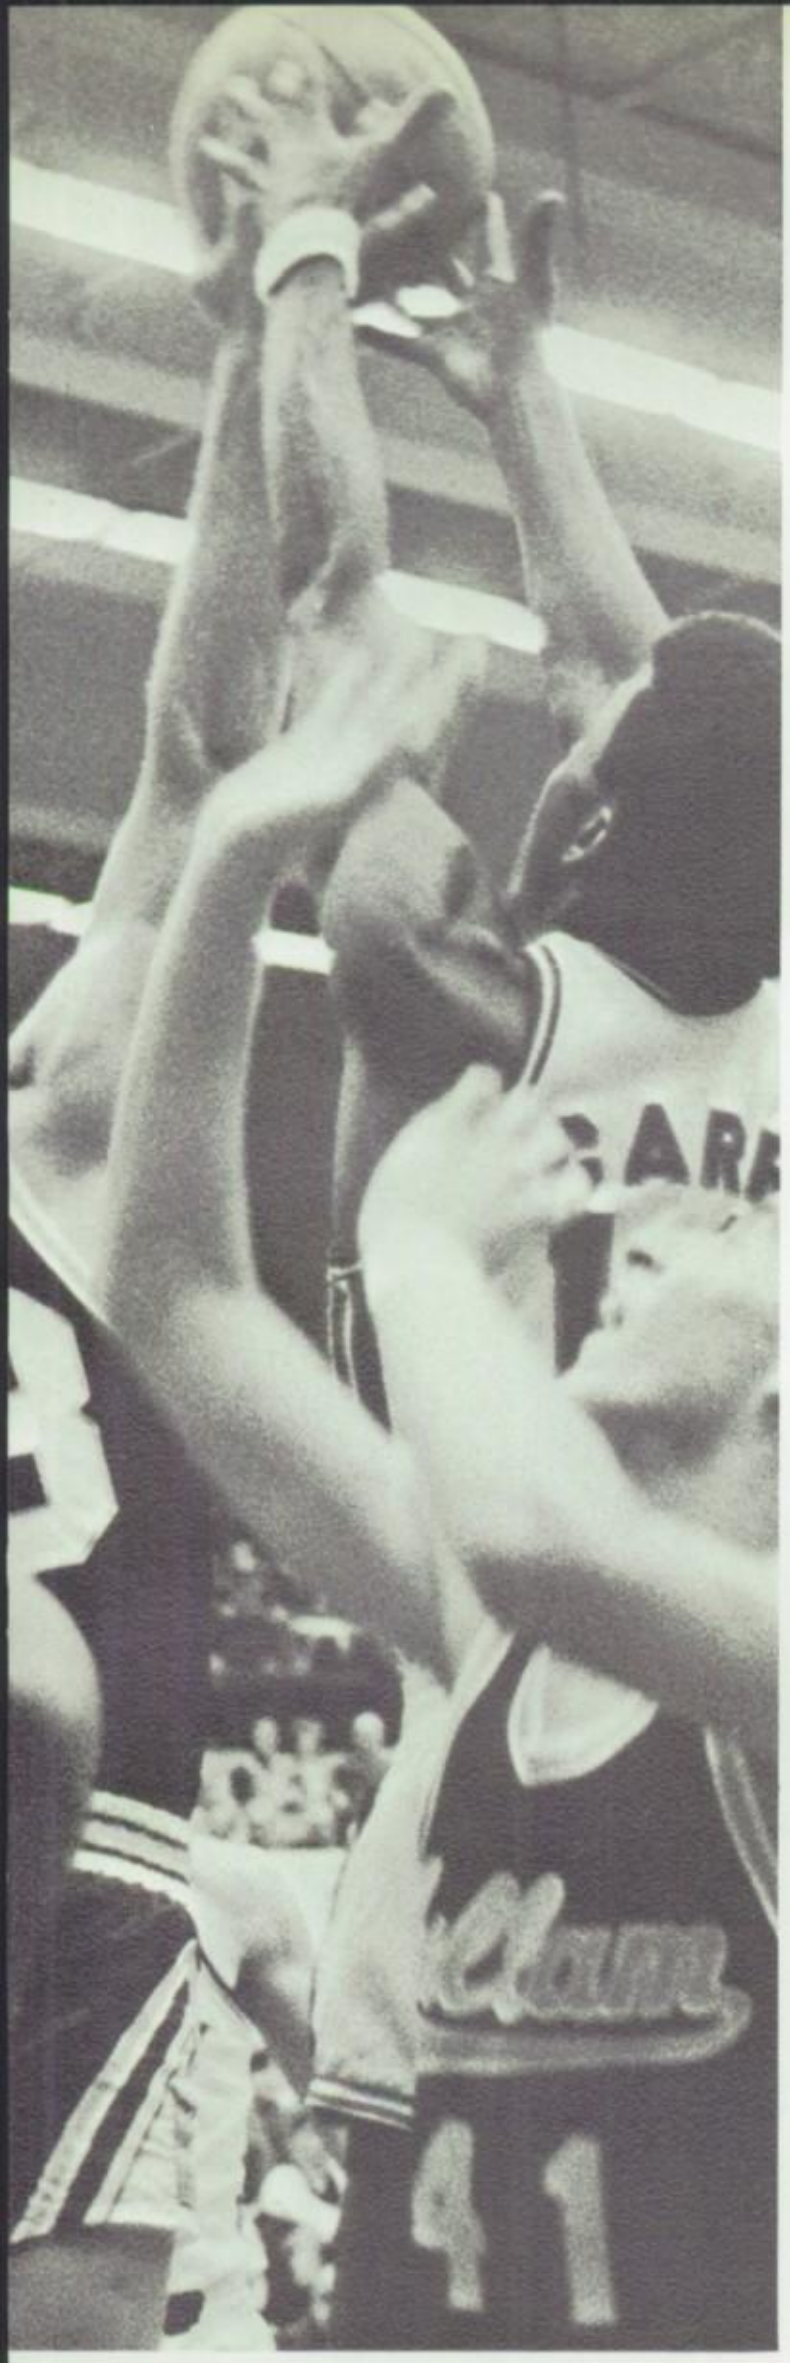
Athletics



Individuals participate in sports because competition is the life blood of the athlete. In each of us there is an inherent desire to be recognized. The athlete also desires to bring recognition to his school. We as spectators seldom realize that behind the tension of a split second play there is sweat and sacrifice, and the tedium of practice when skills must be studied, learned and meshed with those of others. The athlete knows that to win with dignity is a sign of valor, to lose with honor is a sign of strength. Here we reminisce about our moments of strength and valor.

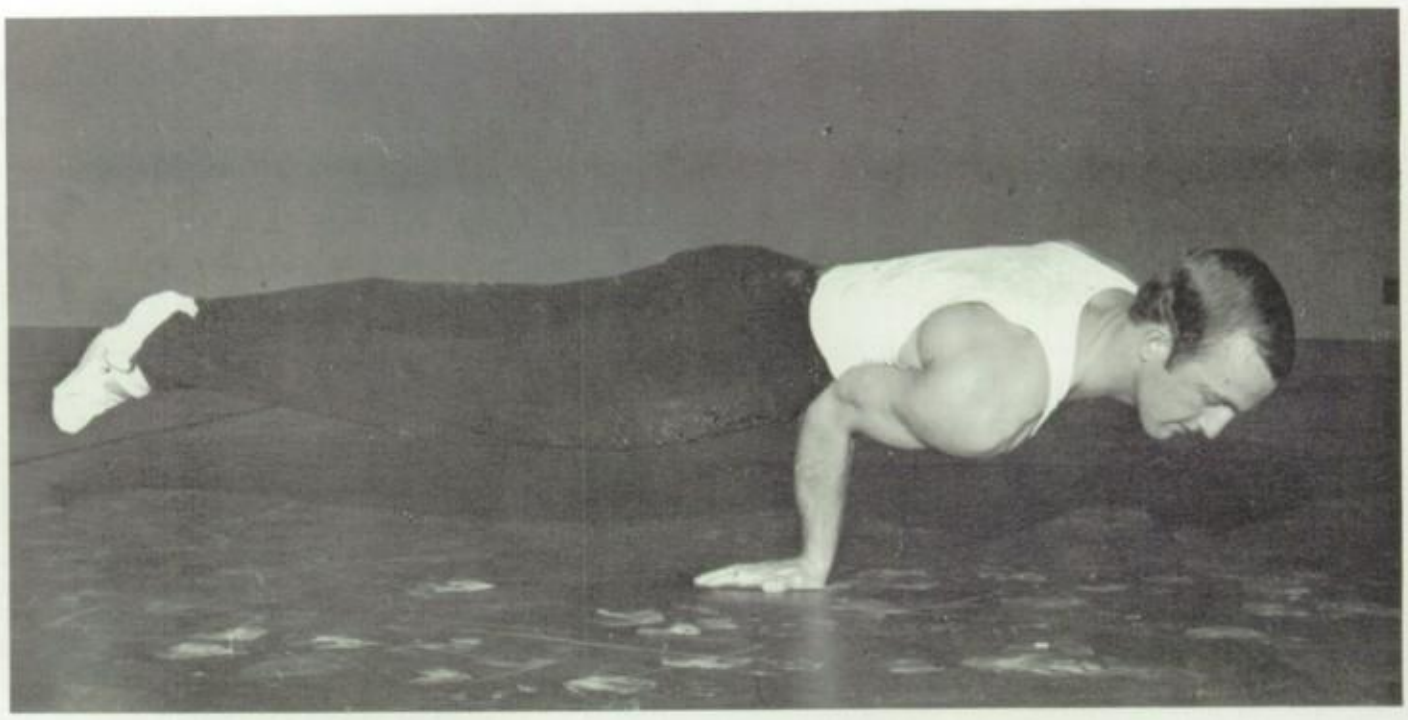
All right, you wise guys, stop throwing popcorn in my megaphone!

Athletic Director Roger MacMillan introduces the speaker from the Creeds Ruritan Club, sponsor of the Athletic Banquet.

Victor Davis, who lettered in two sports simultaneously, was named the most valuable tennis player.



Team captain and most versatile gymnast, Doug Hickman proved to be the most valuable team member.

Mike Futrell accepts the SPARC trophy from Principal Jefferson Davis. Mike was an obvious choice for this award given each year to the school's best overall athlete. Mike, the most valuable football and baseball player, lettered in football 4 times, basketball twice, and baseball 3 times for a total of 9 monograms.

Athletic Banquet Recognizes Most Valuable Players

Linda Craft receives her trophy from Miss Durant after being chosen the Most Outstanding Senior Cheerleader.

Barry Bland earned his most valuable basketball player trophy by accumulating the highest scoring average with the highest shooting percentage, the most rebounds per game, and the best free throw percentage.

Individuals

Individuals live through times of triumph and defeat, joviality and remorse, complacency and frustration. These are our years of change when our bodies grow from us, our minds wonder beyond us. Our lives race by almost too fast for us as for the first time we question the dogmas and then question the questions. We move toward ourselves and find a person we never knew. For the first time in our lives . . . we live. Here we wish for the power only our Creator can give us, and for a moment we try "to see ourselves as others see us."

Class Of 1969 Leaves Its Mark On K. H. S.

Who but the Senior Class officers, Sonny Strange, president; Donna Spruill, secretary; Midge Koehler, treasurer; and Chuck Connelly, vice-president, would stand in front of a '69?

As It Innovates, Decorates, And Graduates

For the Class of 1969 it was a long road, five years filled with laughter and tears, triumph and defeat, work and play. Of those years, the last, the senior year, was the best.

This year under the leadership of Sonny Strange, Senior Class President, the Senior Senate was initiated as the governing body of the Senior Class. At football games we carried on the tradition of selling lollipops for a senior scholarship. Powder Puff was a disaster for us—we lost. At least a senior was chosen Powder Puff Queen!

In January we took over the difficult job of putting out a yearbook. In February our brainchild, the faculty tricycle basketball game, raised a substantial sum for the senior scholarship. In March our fashion show was the harbinger of spring.

The rest of the year was a madhouse beginning with the prom and ending with graduation. In between we produced the first student directed Senior Class play. At the barbeque we recognized the members of Gamma Sigma, the Who's Who of the Senior Class. On Senior Awards Night we awarded scholarships and honored outstanding contributions by the members of the class. But the best part of the year was Baccalaureate and graduation.

In September our first act as seniors had been to paint a temporary '69 on the pump house. In June our last act was to present to Kellam a school seal with a permanent '69 to be imbedded in the front courtyard. We have left our mark on Kellam High School.

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven;

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

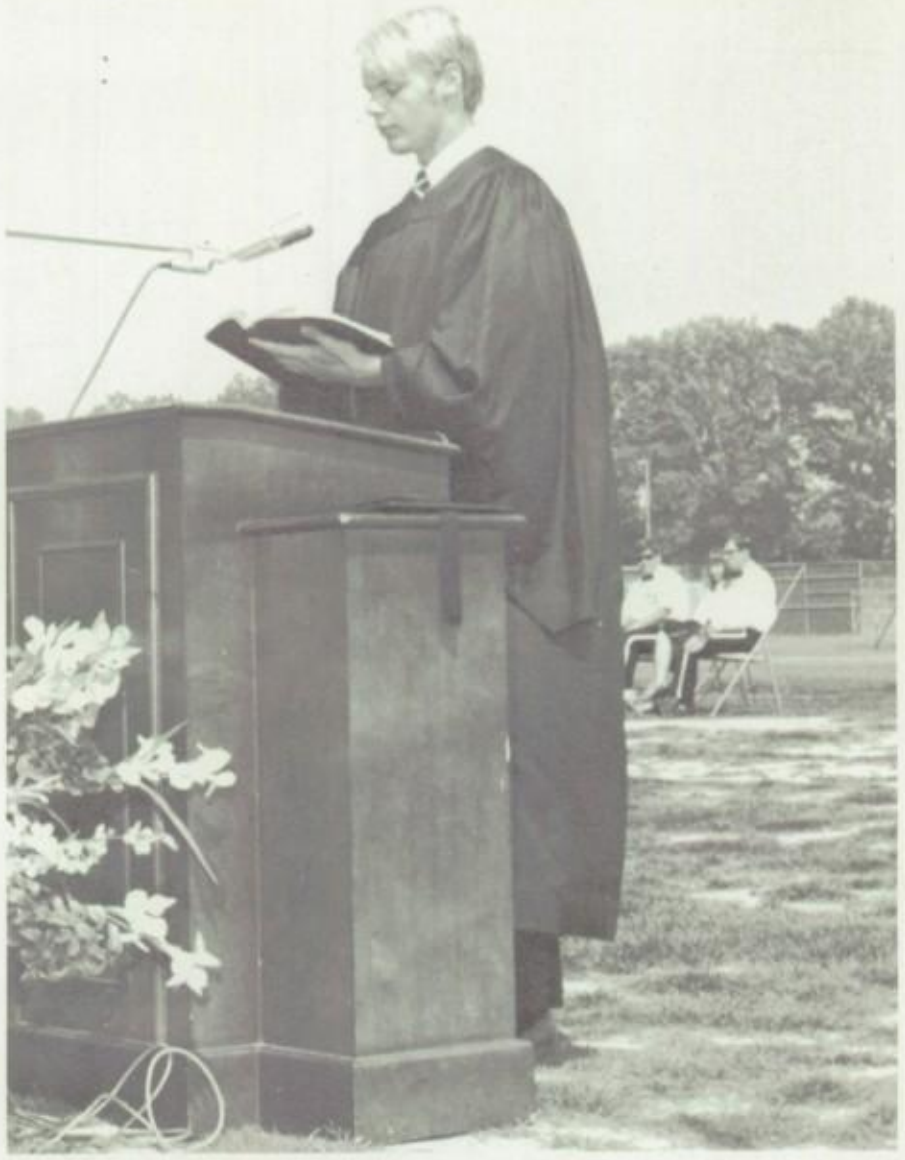
A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

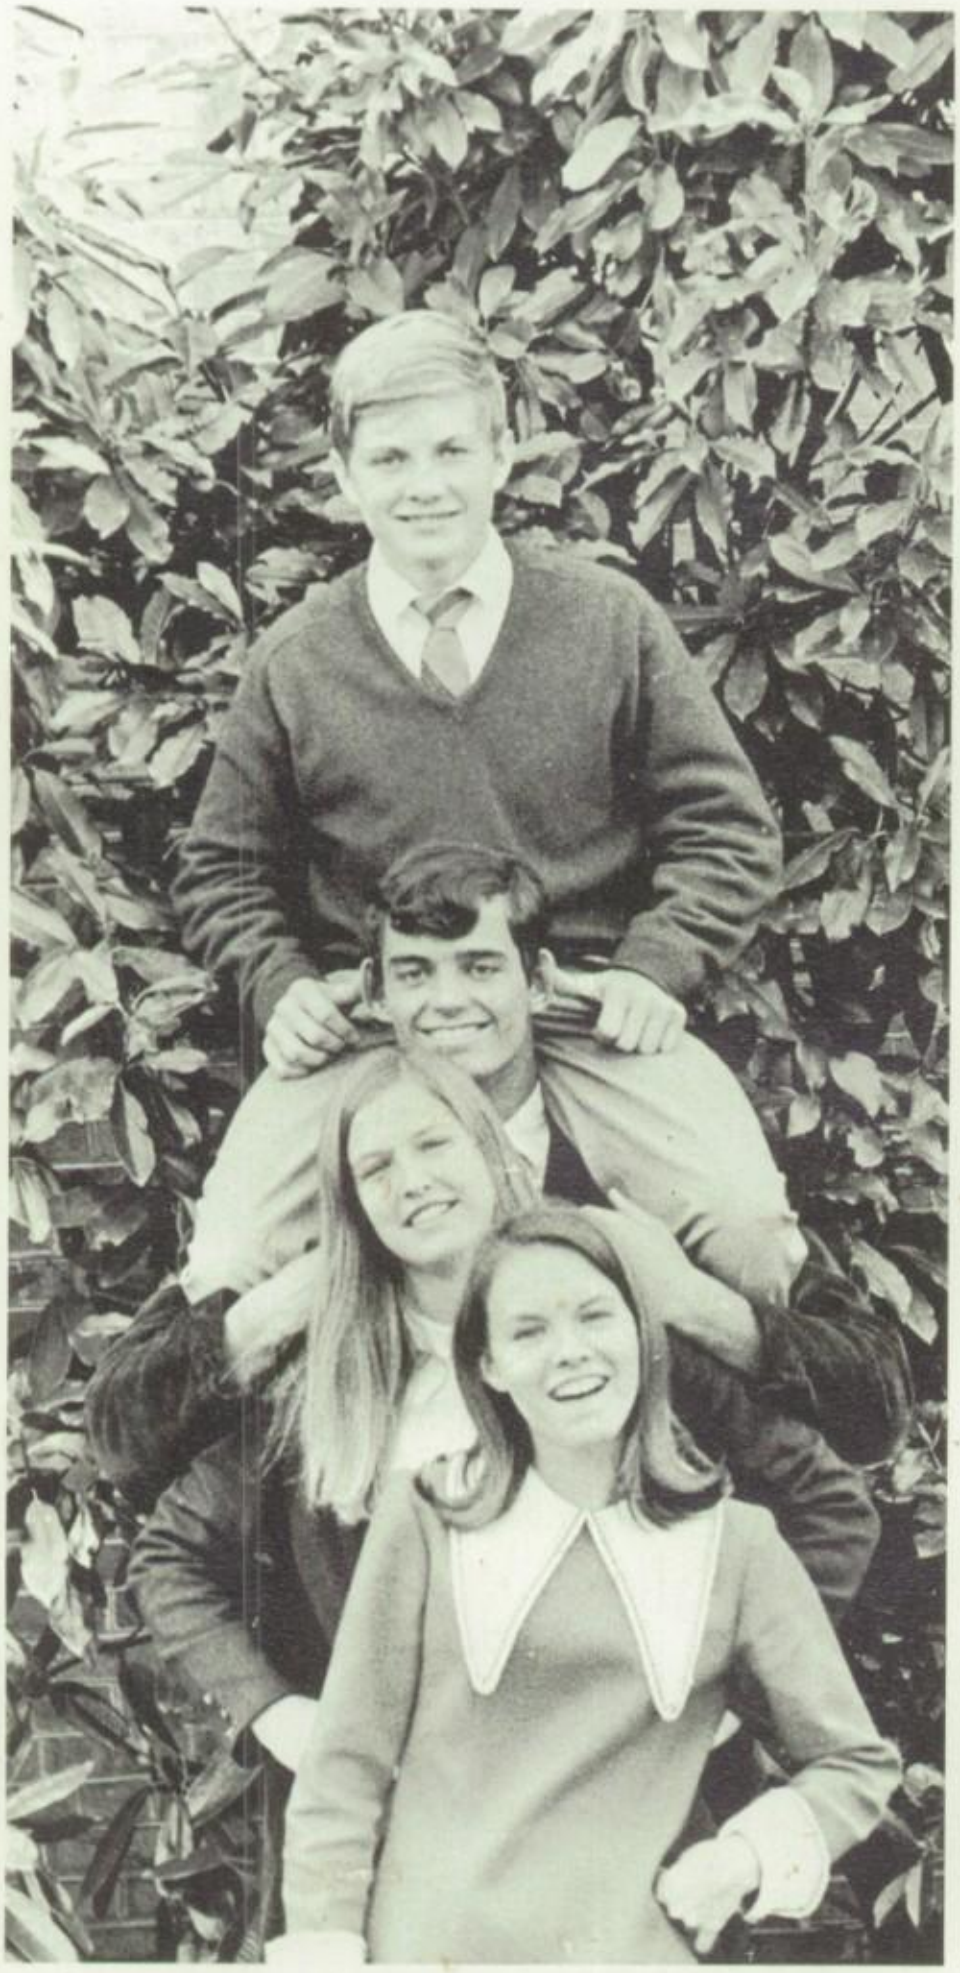
A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8



Wells And Callahan Lead The Knights Of '70



The junior class officers are Wally Wells, president; Ronnie Callahan, vice-president; Debbie Pichard, treasurer; and Melody Hutchinson, secretary.

Among their projects were a magazine sale, a candy sale to earn their rings, collecting $100.00 for the "W.G.H." Penny Pitch, and selling flags for "Fly Your Flag For Freedom Month," also sponsored by "W.G.H."

They also held a pep rally honoring the senior football players. At this rally, the junior class gave each player a gold football pin.

The juniors won the senior tables for a week, as a result of their miraculous victory over the seniors in the annual Powder Puff game. The score was 26-20 in favor of the juniors, in spite of the help given to the seniors by two male football players.

Sophomore Class Sponsors Dance And Holds Sales To Increase Treasury

The Sophomore Class experienced its most active year since entering Kellam High School. Some of their outstanding projects were giving baskets of food to a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas and planning the theme and decorations for the Crystal Ball.

The Class earned money for its activities by having a bake sale, sponsoring a dance after the Kempsville-Kellam football game, and selling mistletoe.

Under the enthusiastic sponsorship of Miss Ariail, the class made the most of this year in preparation for its junior year.

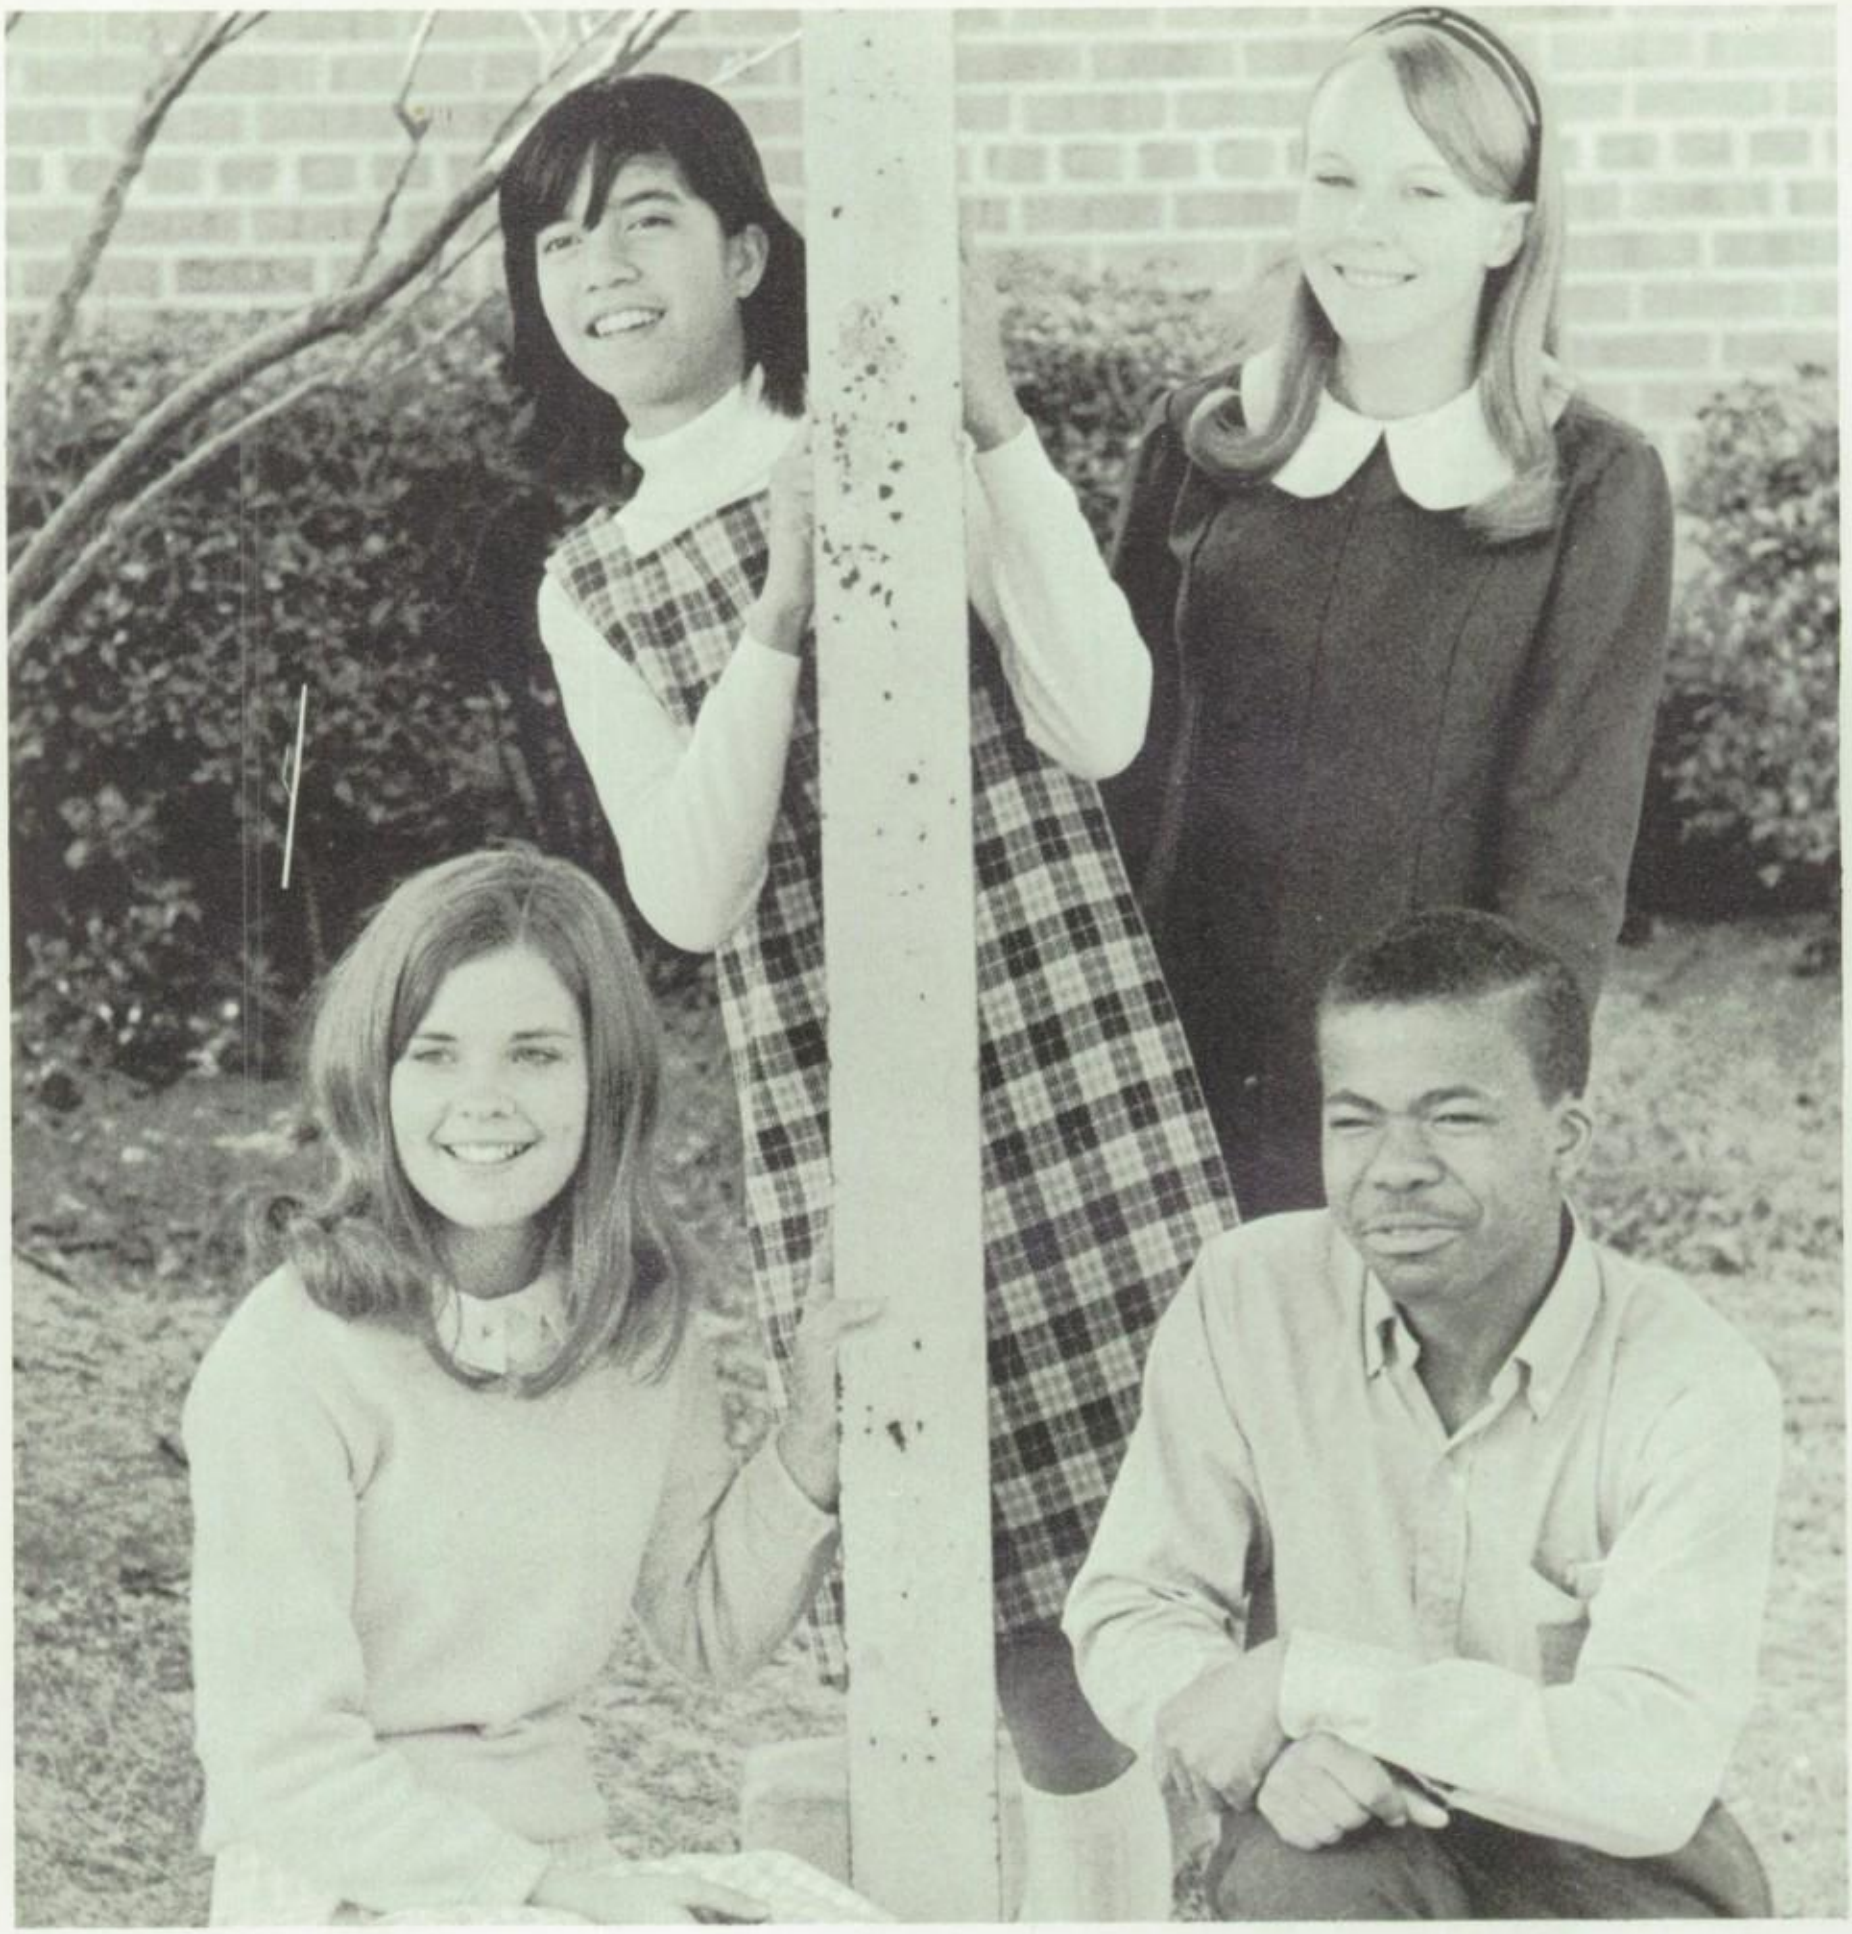
Sophomores look over-joyed as they compete for the spirit jug. By the way, they won.



Freshman Class Officers are Terry Sawyer, President; Kathy McIntire, Vice President; Jeannie Luke, Secretary; Nielson Amis, Treasurer.

Freshmen Increase Treasury Through Class Projects

The Ninth Grade, under the leadership of Terry Sawyer, soared to new heights of student participation through their many projects. The Freshman Class tri-sponsored the Crystal Ball and also organized bake sales and held a car wash to increase their funds for the future. The Freshman Class gave the Seniors stiff competition in the fight for the weekly win of the Spirit Jug.

The raising of the flag denotes the beginning of another day in the lives of Kellam High School students.

Class Of 1973 Tri-Sponsors Crystal Ball

8th Grade Class Officers are John McCracken, S.C.A. Rep.; Stacey Enesey, Vice-President; Debbie Clifton, President; Conrad Eiban, Treasurer; Cecelia Patrick, Secretary.

Lost and bewildered 8th graders entered the halls of Kellam, the largest class in our history. All through the 180 days spent in developing into a mature, active part of our student body, the 8th grade was one of the tri-sponsors of the Crystal Ball and also aided the Senior Class in ticket sales for the annual Powder Puff game. Under the helpful supervision of the class sponsors, Mrs. Betsy Durant and Mrs. Marrianne Macceroni, the 8th grade grew into an outstanding Freshman Class.

John McCracken discusses the bake sale with co-sponsors.

Individuals provide services and assure the public quality consumer goods. We live in a world regulated by material needs; and it is these dedicated people, the merchants and businessmen of our community, who furnish not only the necessities but also the frivolities of life. Here we express our appreciation to these people who have helped to make this yearbook possible.
